

cabinjohncreek.org

DID YOU KNOW? BELTED KINGFISHER

A native bird that loves to dive headfirst for fish in Cabin John Creek. Known for its loud, rattling call, the belted kingfisher is often seen perched on branches by the creek.

FUN FACTS

- ✓ Eats fish, insects, frogs, small mammals
- ✓ Nests in burrows dug into creek and riverbanks
- ✓ Female is more colorful than the male
- ✓ Like owls, regurgitates pellets of undigested bones
- ✓ Known to have existed 2 million years ago

